Who's Dany? Vocal, bass guitar

Dany has always had a passion – singing.

At only sixteen years old, she had her first public performance, winning a singing competition.

That kick started her career, Since then she has worked internationally in different duos, trios and bands.

She began to take bass guitar and percussion lessons, to make herself a more versatile performer.

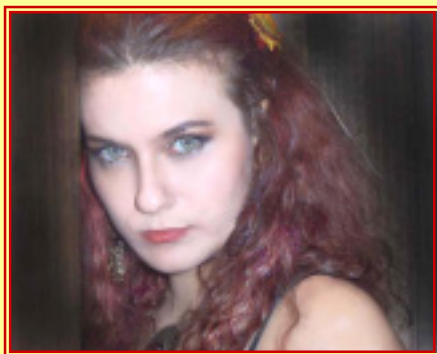

Dany says, “That rhythm can really make you dance”, because she also is a trained dancer.

She loves to flirt with the audience, by leaving the stage and going into the crowd and interacting with the people, never losing the feeling of “it’s now or never” and drawing each person in.
